These stages are not linear, and individuals may find themselves revisiting certain phases multiple times. Recognizing these stages helps in normalizing your emotional experience and provides a roadmap for growth.

1. Denial and Shock

This initial stage involves disbelief and numbness. It's a protective response where the mind shields itself from overwhelming pain by denying the reality of abandonment.

2. Pain and Anger

As denial fades, intense emotions surface. Feelings of hurt, betrayal, and anger emerge, demanding acknowledgment and expression.

3. Bargaining and Guilt

Individuals may reflect on what could have been done differently, experiencing guilt or bargaining with reality to regain control or undo the loss.

4. Acceptance and Reflection

This stage marks the acknowledgment of the loss and beginning of understanding, allowing space for reflection and emotional processing.

The final stage involves restoring self-esteem, establishing new relationships, and creating a hopeful outlook for the future.
