Al Capone's Military Service: The Basics

When and Where Did Capone Serve?

Al Capone enlisted in the United States Army in 1917, during World War I, at the age of 18. His service coincided with a period of heightened national patriotic sentiment, although Capone's military record is relatively modest compared to other servicemen of his era. He was stationed in New York City, primarily working in non-combat roles, as there is no record of him being deployed overseas or participating in combat operations. His enlistment was part of a broader wave of recruitment as the U.S. prepared to enter World War I, which officially began for America in April 1917.

Duration of Service and Discharge

Capone served for approximately one year, from 1917 to 1918. His service concluded when he was discharged due to disciplinary issues, a common occurrence among young enlistees of that time. His military record indicates that he received a dishonorable discharge after being involved in a fight while on duty, reflecting his fiery temper and propensity for violence.

The Nature of Capone's Military Experience

Disciplinary Problems and Behavior

While many soldiers found military service to be a formative experience, Capone's time in the Army was marred by disciplinary problems. He was known to have been involved in fights and altercations, which eventually led to his

His temper and propensity for violence, noted during his military service, were consistent with his behavior in later years.

Skills and Influences Gained

Despite the disciplinary issues, Capone's military service likely contributed certain skills and influences:

1. Discipline: While his discharge was due to misconduct, the regimented environment of the military may have instilled some level of discipline, even if only temporarily.
2. Social Networks: Serving in the military exposed him to diverse groups of young men, which could have expanded his social and criminal networks later on.
3. Exposure to Violence: Witnessing or participating in violence during his service may have desensitized him or reinforced aggressive tendencies.
