Who Was LS Lowry?

Early Life and Background

LS Lowry was born on November 1, 1887, in a town called Stretford, near Manchester, England. His full name was Sir Laurence Stephen Lowry, but most people knew him simply as Lowry. He grew up in a working-class family during the Industrial Revolution, a time when many cities in England were filled with factories, workers, and busy streets. Lowry's childhood was shaped by the sights and sounds of this busy industrial world, which would later become the main theme of his artwork. He was interested in drawing from a young age, and he spent a lot of time sketching scenes of his neighborhood.

His Job and Artistic Style

Although Lowry trained as a rent collector and worked in offices, he always loved painting. His art was different from many other painters because he often painted scenes of everyday life—people walking in the streets, factories billowing smoke, and the busy urban landscape of Northern England. What makes Lowry's art special is his use of simple, almost cartoon-like figures called "matchstick men." These figures are tall, thin, and have little detail, but they express a lot of emotion and activity. Lowry used a limited color palette—mainly greys, blacks, and whites—to give his paintings a moody, sometimes somber, atmosphere.
